

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF RISK AND CONSENT

This document asks you to acknowledge that there are inherent risks to participation in climbing, ropes courses, water sports and other outdoor and adventure activities. Some of these risks are due to the unalterable nature of the activities. We are constantly striving to reduce these risks, but some risk cannot be eliminated. Minor injuries are occasionally a part of adventure activities and more serious injury or loss is possible. We also ask that you give your consent for your participation, or the participation of the below mentioned child, in Kanuga's higher risk activities and programs.

I, _____, understand that my participation or the participation of _____ in outdoor, educational or recreational activities and programs sponsored by Kanuga Conferences Inc. including but not limited to swimming, diving, boarding, ropes courses, climbing activities and adventure activities could result in accidental injury or even serious injury. I also understand that participation in the above mentioned activities requires that I or the above mentioned child be of good physical condition and I do hereby accept all responsibility for my physical well being or the physical well being of the above mentioned child.

Being aware of the inherent risks and potential injury to myself or the above mentioned child for whom I am responsible as parent/guardian, I hereby consent to my attendance and participation or the attendance and participation of the above mentioned child at Kanuga and other location as part of the programs conducted by Kanuga Conferences Inc.
